Green Advances

Great News on Green GROG[®]

Green GROG[®] is now off the dangerous goods list since it is no longer classified as flammable, and it is now available at greatly reduced prices. 5 litre prices are now nearly 20% cheaper! If you are some distance from our factory and have been paying dangerous goods freight, your freight bill will probably be cut in half. Green GROG[®] can now be taken onto sites which may have previously banned all forms of dangerous goods. Sales of this pleasant smelling formula are now increasing at three times the rate of standard GROG[®].

Another Sonitron[®] initiative towards greening the planet

At present 98% of our range is not dangerous goods. In the case of products such as Browning Remover Concentrate we have available an alternative version Browning Remover RFU which is not classified as dangerous goods. We intend to continue this process to either eliminate dangerous goods entirely or offer safer alternatives. Customers then have the choice of products which offer the benefits of improved Workplace health and safety, reduced storage hazards and reduced freight rates.

The GROG[®] story.

Considering the above situation we have decided to abandon manufacture of the original formula sometimes known as Yellow GROG[®]. This will happen when current stocks of raw materials are exhausted which will probably occur by the end of September. GROG[®] Gel which is also off the DG list is a specialized product and will still be available so you have two versions of GROG[®] to choose from. Within a very short time S110 will be available in a non DG form also.
